Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 05 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Patchy rain in the west. Bright spells in the east.

Today:
Mainly cloudy with some patchy rain at times in the west, most persistent across the Northwest Highlands. Mainly dry in the east with some bright spells. Breezy over the Northern Isles.

Tonight:
Mainly cloudy with patchy light rain, although the south and east dry for much of the time. The rain will turn heavy and persistent across the northwest. Freshening winds. Mild.

Saturday:
Wet and windy at times with gales around the coast. Clearer, showery conditions pushing in from the west later and winds becoming severe gale force in the north.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Gales or severe gales at first on Sunday, the strongest winds in the north. Blustery showers. Turning wet and windy again on Monday. Brighter with showers on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.